WELCOME FROM THE PRESIDENT

Class of 2022,

On behalf of the faculty and staff of Lewis-Clark State College, it is an honor to welcome you, your family, and your friends as we celebrate you and your accomplishments.

Today is an important day. Graduating from college is one of the most transformative and memorable moments of our lives. It marks both the end of an extraordinary journey and the start an incredible adventure. Be proud of what you have accomplished. Bask in well-deserved compliments from your friends and family. Remember the feeling of this moment; cherish it and never let it go.

Every time you face a challenge, and these past two years have certainly been characterized by challenge, remember this moment. Every time you doubt if you have what it takes, remember what we, together, have overcome. Every time you question if it is worth the journey, remember this moment of celebration and triumph. Your diploma isn't just a piece of paper. It isn't just a degree or certificate. A college diploma is an enduring symbol of success, and provides both a foundation and scaffolding from which you can and will move forward as energized, engaged and highly capable citizen-leaders.

As we congratulate you and wish you all good things in what many call "the real world," I want to remind you that at LC State, you've been in the real world. Lewis-Clark State College prides itself on connecting learning to life. Real-world application is what we do. Experiential learning is who we are. Through internships, practica, clinicals, Work Scholars, work-study, community engagement, service learning, campus involvement, athletics and the arts; and because of the truly exceptional education experiences created by our accomplished and innovative faculty, and supported by unwaveringly committed staff, you are prepared for tomorrows yet to be imagined.

In closing, some parting advice: First, "fall seven – rise eight"; success isn't measured by how far you get, but by how far you've come, and by rising eight times, even after falling seven. Second, remember where you started and those who helped you along the way. Truly, managing to step forward and navigating through a global pandemic is a story of success and inspiration. Take pride in this accomplishment. Take joy in reaching this milestone; and, just as others encouraged you along your path, your voice can help inspire perseverance, confidence, and achievement in others. Use your voice. Speak up. Give back. Pay it forward, and never stop learning.

It has been our pleasure to serve as your college, and it will be our privilege to be your alma mater. I wish you the best and happiest of futures. May you walk a good path into tomorrows of achievement and high adventure.

Sincerely,

Cynthia Pemberton, Ed.D., President
Lewis-Clark State College

FOUNDATION BOARD PRESIDENT

Dear Graduates,

This day marks the beginning of your next chapter, your next journey, your next adventure... What comes next? A job, graduate school, marriage, or perhaps a move out of state? I am sure you will ask yourself this question many times throughout your life. Many of you have a plan, but many of you might be wondering what does come next? The beauty of this day is that it is, indeed, a “commencement,” the beginning or the start of something wonderful. Your ambition, commitment, and hard work is what got you here and these same qualities will take you to your next accomplishment.

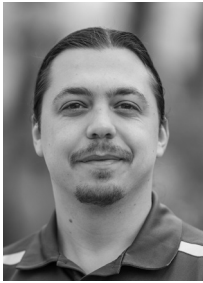

Your class has endured a great deal together! More than you may realize. Getting through your academic program was challenging in and of itself. You tackled your goals, you finished your projects, you passed your exams! In addition, you met your goals during a pandemic that will go down in history as one of the most difficult periods of your life. You not only survived, but you flourished. You are Warriors for life!

Take the knowledge, skills, and confidence that you have gained through your education here at LC State and do great things! We are all proud of you and are excited to watch as you soar to meet your goals. On behalf of the Lewis Clark State College Foundation, I am honored to congratulate each and every one of you for your great accomplishments.

Congratulations,

Lori McCann, President
Lewis-Clark State College Foundation

ASSOCIATED STUDENTS OF LC STATE

Dear Graduates,

It is my duty and honor as the president of the Associated Students of Lewis-Clark State College to congratulate all of the graduates here today for their commitment to education at our beloved school. Without great and unique students like you, this college would be missing what really makes us special.

I would like to begin by thanking the guests in attendance today. I am a firm believer that behind everyone strong person is an even stronger supporter. If you are a friend, family member, guardian, or even an acquaintance of one of these fine graduates, give yourself a pat on the back. Your continued support of these graduates means the world. Graduates, give them your personal thanks after this.

The first day we arrived at this fine institution, we were probably told that this campus community feels like a family. I think family is the perfect way to describe the feeling on this campus today. Though not all of you know each other's names, and you are going your separate ways, everyone here today is part of a family. When you go off and start families of your own, I hope you find the time to bring up your experience here at LC State and especially what today felt like to you. One day, I hope you dig through the boxes in your attic and find this pamphlet so you can be reminded of the great pride we have for you and your accomplishments at LC State. You did it.

Though life has been hard for most, and the times uncertain, you all have certainly proven to be "Warrior Strong." Your great strength and passion are what makes LC the place to be. If you start the next chapter of your lives with a fraction of the strength you have right now, you will succeed in whatever it is you do. I am so very excited to see just how high you can all fly.

For the last and most important time, thank you for all that you do. I have never been good at goodbyes, so how about this instead.

See you soon,

Caden Konrad McCall Massey
ASLCSC President 2021-2022

ALUMNI ASSOCIATION PRESIDENT

Dear LC State Class of 2022,

We celebrate and honor your accomplishment of achieving your college degree at LC State. Today, the investment you made in yourself by immersing into college life made your educational dream a reality!

Your college story is an inspiration! Not only did you meet all your degree requirements; attending class, studying, writing paper after paper, taking test after test all the while engaging with fellow students, staff, and professors, YOU navigated over two years of your education through a global pandemic. All of you made personal sacrifices to obtain your degree during a time of uncertainty and change that affected our lives in so many ways. While in college, you may have been juggling a family, or participating in a college sport, or working a job or two and so much more. You stand here today representing resilience, determination, hard work and commitment!

The education you achieved at LC State will take you places you never imagined! You'll discover new opportunities, experience new places, meet new people and make your mark in the world.

LC State alumni applaud and commend you for achieving your college degree at LC State. We can attest that obtaining a college education from LC State will embark you into the extraordinary life you've always imagined.

LC State will forever be a part of your life and we welcome you to the LC State alumni family. Now that you're an LC State graduate, you will continue to be part of the heart of this college! Stay connected and involved, we look forward to you continuing the tradition of supporting our amazing alma mater!

To the class of 2022, you are now a WARRIOR4LIFE!

Jamie K. Olson, President
LC State Alumni Association

FACULTY ASSOCIATION

Robert B. Thomas wrote in an early issue of Old Farmer's Almanac: "We must strive to always be useful, with a pleasant degree of humor."

Recently, I was reading the Old Farmer's Almanac trying to decide what profound words of wisdom I could bestow upon you as the Chair of Faculty Association, as you leave Lewis-Clark State College and go forth into the new world. Then I realized I was looking at the answer: Toilet Paper.

A roll of toilet paper is a great source for an analogy for a couple of reasons: Number 1: we have all seen and recognize it, and hopefully, have used it. Number 2: as with life, a roll of toilet paper has new beginnings and new endings throughout its entire lifespan, just as we do. As we come out of the pandemic of 2020-2022, we are thankful we stocked up on toilet paper early on, for whatever reason.

It is apparent, we are now at a new beginning and a new ending in the world around us, and you are ready. Today as you are reading this letter, you have reached another new ending and a new beginning in your educational journey. You have earned a new degree through the completion of credits and the ending of this semester. This new degree has ended this part of your educational journey, but has opened new doors of opportunity and prospects from here forward. Your name will now have hard earned letters behind it. You have learned – how to learn. As faculty, we hope you continue to enjoy being a lifelong learner.

New beginnings – New endings. While at LC State, you have made many new connections and friends that will last a lifetime. It is our hope that you continue to be productive, engaged citizens and successful leaders in the profession in which you are graduating today. Your desired career may begin tomorrow, but the experiences and memories made at LC State will not end today.

I will paraphrase Ann Landers in my parting thoughts to you: The Good Lord gave us two ends – with one we sit and with one we think. Success depends on which we use, heads you win, tails you lose. With that in mind, embrace your new ending (graduation) and go forth with a kind and determined heart and seek your new beginning. Congratulations on the success of your new degree and to those who helped you obtain it! May you continue to be and become successful leaders, engaged citizens, and lifelong learners.

Lorinda Lowe Hughes
Faculty Association Chair

THE PRESIDENT'S MEDALLION

The President's Medallion is awarded to individuals who have significantly impacted Lewis-Clark State College by demonstrating high personal standards, commitment to life-long learning, and personal growth. Their efforts have contributed to the quality of instruction, life on campus, and in the community. They have offered leadership, personal energy, or resources to enhance the educational experience and environment at the institution and the community. Their contributions, in various forms, benefit the institution and those who work and learn here.

Deanna Vickers

Deanna is the main reason Lewis-Clark State College plays such an important role in the local art community. She spearheaded the establishment of what now is known as the LC State Center for Arts & History (CAH), and was a founding member of both the Dogwood Festival and Art Under the Elms.

Deanna grew up in Algona, Iowa, and was one of seven children. She attended Rangely Junior College in Colorado and majored in dental hygiene.

She married Lee Vickers, who came to LC State in 1971 as head men's basketball coach and then was an academic dean and vice president before serving as the college's president from 1978-1994.

Deanna kept a relatively low public profile early, working part-time as a dental hygienist in a Lewiston office. By the mid-1980s, however, she was voluntarily serving as the foundation coordinator and then managing director for the CAH. She was part of the group that launched the LCSC Artist Series and then she agreed to lead the Artist Series advisory board, which quickly grew and spawned the community's annual Dogwood Festival in 1985. Art Under the Elms then started in 1987.

Deanna also played a crucial role in having the First Security Bank building in downtown Lewiston donated to the college. The building is now home to CAH as well as office space. It also is home to the Chinese Beuk Aie Temple exhibit, which she was the conduit for requesting, receiving, and restoring in the 1990s.

Deanna was passionate in her pursuit of campus beautification and the preservation of campus historic buildings. The beautification of the grounds became another signature contribution. She chaired the College Centennial Mall Committee and engaged artist Doug Hyde and the Nez Perce Tribe in developing and creating the Lewis and Clark statue area in the center of campus.

Deana helped with plans in 1978 to extensively renovate the LC State President's Home, while preserving the original interior and exterior of the two-story residence built in 1905.

Deanna served three terms in the Idaho House of Representative during 1986-92 and kept funding for a new college library at the forefront of her legislative negotiations. She served on the Idaho Energy Policy Board and the Idaho Centennial Commission. She received the City of Lewiston's Community Service Award in 1993.

The Vickers are retired and reside in Phoenix. They enjoy spending time with their three children and grandchildren.

EMERITUS

Scott Brainard

Scott Brainard

Scott has the longest tenure at the college among this year's retirees receiving emeritus status. He started teaching at LC State in 1980 in the electronics program and gave the college 42 years of service. The program has evolved over the years with many different instructors and program updates. Today the program is called Industrial Electronics Technology and now has three who teach classes. Industrial Electronics Technology now offers an associate degree as well as two certificates to prepare students for work in the development, installation, testing, maintenance and repair of electrical and electronic systems in industrial and commercial facilities. Scott was the one common thread that saw the program through all of the changes. He worked hard to keep the program current with his attainment of several degrees from LC State and his return to industry experiences.

Scott was able to enjoy three semesters at the new Schweitzer CTE Center after his work of getting his classroom and office moved. Over the years, Scott has served on many division and campus committees. Scott's quiet nature kept him engaged with behind the scenes work to continually serve the program and his students. His students valued his knowledge, kindness and guidance.

The electronics program has gone through many changes over the past four decades with Scott at the helm. Scott's legacy and contributions will long be remembered.

Erick Cummings

Erick started teaching in the Lewis-Clark State Auto Mechanics program in 1999. He came to the college with years of experience with Chevy and transmission repairs. During his time at LC State, he provided students with several opportunities to learn and grow through the Auto Club, SkillsUSA competitions, and community programs and events. His students regularly took part in parades, the Dogwood Festival, event parking, and fundraising events. Erick gave the program the rigor and reputation it has today by getting and maintaining the Auto Service Excellence (ASE)/National Automotive Technicians Education Foundation program accreditation.

Erick was dedicated to the college through his participation in many division and campus committees. An example of Erick's dedication to the program, division, and college is the key role he played in designing and moving the Auto Mechanics program to the new Schweitzer CTE Center. Erick kept his skills and curriculum current by returning to industry, being an Automatic Transmission Rebuilders Association member, and maintaining ASE Master Certifications. Erick has formed many community partnerships during his tenure at the college. More importantly, he helped and advised many students over the years and formed lasting relationships. His service on campus included chairing and serving on the Standing Promotion Review Committee.

Erick has been a mentor, leader, and friend to many in the Technical & Industrial Division.

Erick Cummings

EMERITUS

Michelle Doty

Michelle Doty has been at LC State since 2005 as the coordinator for the Special Education Endorsement Program within the Teacher Education & Mathematics Division. She helped design curriculum, guide students, mentor interns and strengthen the area of special education in Idaho through her state, regional and national leadership.

Michelle earned her bachelor's and master's in special education, and her doctorate in education, all from the University of Idaho. Michelle began her teaching career in 1994 as a teaching assistant at Idaho. In 2002, she was hired as an instructor and then served the following year as an adjunct faculty member, both at UI. At the same time, she was an adjunct faculty member at Washington State University. She continued in those roles until being hired at LC State. In all, she has designed and taught 26 courses and created multiple opportunities for LC State students to mentor high school students and attend personal development workshops through state and national special education conferences.

In addition, she has strengthened high school special education programs across the state by originating and coordinating the annual Tools for Life Conference for the past 17 years and establishing the Student and Professionals Accessing Resources in the Community (SPARC) Program here, establishing an apartment off-campus for high school special education students to take courses and learn life skills with the support of LC State's pre-service teachers.

Michelle and her husband Randy have been married for nearly 40 years and they have three children Justin, Chase and Brittney. She spent many years advocating for Chase who was diagnosed with Spinal Meningitis at 10 months of age. That led her toward her passion for special education.

Tracy Flynn

Tracy has been an essential team member, mentor, generous friend, and esteemed colleague at LC State since 1999. Her nursing colleagues say her enthusiasm for learning and curiosity has been contagious and certainly improved day-to-day activities for both students and faculty.

Tracy earned her bachelor's degree in public administration from New York University where she was an Honors Scholar. She later earned an associate degree and bachelor's degree in nursing at LC State, her master's at Idaho State, and a Ph.D. in organizational leadership and social justice from Gonzaga. Her final credential was a family nurse practitioner certificate, which allows her to pursue her passion of serving others within the campus, the community, and on mission trips abroad.

Tracy's nursing experience includes acute care specialties such as medical/oncology, labor/delivery, and maternal/newborn care. She also served as a public health nurse and health promotion coordinator before arriving at LC State. Her creativity has benefited the college because she has created new courses, program tracks, academic partnerships, certificates, and curricula. Her collegiality allowed Idaho to be one of three innovative states to develop concurrent enrollment programs for associate degree students to simultaneously complete a bachelor's degree in nursing.

Courses she developed and taught include traditional and online sections of healthcare policy and economics, healthcare finance, management and leadership, community health theory and practicums in several different specialties. Her passion for service to diverse and underserved populations, including the homeless, those with HIV and AIDS, cancer patients and those with chemical addictions, has driven much of her work.

Michelle Doty

Tracy Flynn

EMERITUS

Debbie Goodwin

Debbie Goodwin

Debbie brought a wealth of knowledge to the college when she began teaching for the Business Division (now Business & Computer Science Division) in 2002. She previously had been working as a human resource manager and in the human resource field for more than 20 years, much of that time spent in Boise and Seattle with large businesses. Debbie and her family moved to the area in 1999.

Debbie earned her bachelor's degree in business administration at Boise State and then her MBA from the University of Washington. She brought her private sector experience to the college and put it to great use. Debbie's primary teaching assignments included human resource management, and management and leadership. Her students regularly raved about her and her teaching methods. She was so admired by her students that they nominated her for a National Society of Leadership and Success award. She also helped with the Business Student Organization, a club for business majors at LC State that regularly volunteers at various events, including golf tournaments and the Dogwood Festival.

Debbie has won several awards at the college, including receiving the President's Award for Outstanding Teaching in 2017 and the Annice Edmundson Faculty Excellence Award in 2020. She also received her division's Faculty of the Year award in 2007 and was chosen for the CAMP Professor Award as well. In addition, she has served on numerous boards at the college, including Hearing Board, Student Leadership Advisory Board, the division's accreditation team, and several search and promotion/tenure committees. She also has been involved in the community through a local motorcycle club's Toys for Tots drive and with the Civic Theater along with her husband Larry.

Bill Hayne

A faculty member in teacher education, Bill gave 28 years of excellent service to LC State, both in the classroom and in building relationships with school partners throughout the Pacific Northwest.

Bill has been recognized on multiple occasions for his knowledge, expertise, and excellence. He has been awarded the ASLSCSC Award for Excellence in Academic Diversity, the President's Award for Excellence in Diversity and Cross-Cultural Understanding, the Fernandez Faculty Excellence Award and the Warrior Athletic Association Academic Faculty/Staff Award. Bill's expertise in diversity and inclusive education is highly sought after. He is a longtime member of the LC State President's Commission on Diversity and the Idaho Indian Education Committee. Additionally, he is a respected and accomplished speaker having presented at the LC State Native American Awareness Week, the National Indian Education Association Conference, several Indian Education conferences, the LC State Leadership Series and the Native American/Minority Student Services Leadership Retreat.

Bill secured the American Indian Students in Leadership and Education Grant for $1.2 million. This grant helped established Pi'amkinwaas on campus, a number of student scholarships, technical assistance and professional development for Pacific Northwest tribal schools, summer institutes for teachers from across the western United States, diversity field trips for teacher preparation students to Seattle, Tacoma, Portland, and Tillicum Village, and diversity training events on campus and throughout the valley. Bill also has served the LC State athletic department by being a speaker and emcee at various events.

Bill and his wife Jennifer love spending time with their children and grandchildren, as well as time on the Oregon Coast.

Bill Hayne

EMERITUS

Chris Norden

Chris Norden taught at Lewis-Clark State for 30 years, in which time he championed social and environmental justice in his teaching, advising, service, curriculum development, and research. His work in particular helped facilitate collaborative relationships between the college and the surrounding indigenous communities.

After graduating with bachelor's and master's degrees in English from the University of Virginia, Chris received his Ph.D., in English from the University of Wisconsin. Chris was hired by LC State in 1992 to teach classes in modern literature, writing, and environmental studies. In his time at the college, Chris served on many major committees and has developed many popular classes. Chris was the co-founder and first president of LC State faculty union (American Federation of Teachers), founder of the Uncommon Reads reading group, and founding faculty sponsor of the KLCZ-FM campus radio station.

In addition, Chris utilized sabbaticals to serve as Visiting Professor in China and Taiwan, as well as Visiting Scholar in Alicante, Spain. Chris taught a graduate seminar on American Environmental Literature and Philosophy at Huafan University in Taiwan and gave the keynote address at an international ecocriticism conference. Recently, Chris has organized a series of workshops to develop indigenous ways of knowing and ecological values curriculum, in collaboration with various Nez Perce elders and teachers. He organized a panel titled "Missing Sisters: Nez Perce Women & the Missing and Murdered Indigenous Women Movement," which includes a number of LC tribal alumni.

Chris would like to recognize and remember his friend and colleague, the late Jim Tarter, who was a fellow professor of English in the Humanities Division until his passing in October of 2011.

Liz Scarano

Liz Scarano graduated from nursing school in 1977 and has devoted over 45 years of her life to the profession of nursing. Liz has been a valued faculty member since 2007. She was assigned to teach pharmacology her first year and taught a variety of nursing classes over the years. A class she consistently taught since day one is pharmacology.

Liz has enriched student and faculty experiences by her amazing ability to teach complex subjects in a very understandable and simplified way. She treated students with the utmost respect and often was found in her office helping students on an individual basis. Because she is so approachable and friendly, students often sought Liz out. She made them feel worthy. One faculty member said "Liz is a natural at building people up. Whether it's another faculty member or a student. When you leave her presence, you can't help but feel better. It's hard to quantify just how impactful Liz has been here at LC. Literally hundreds of students have been impacted by her teaching. In turn, thousands of patients have been touched as well through her capacity to influence students in the most positive ways. Students aspire to be like her. She really is an amazing role model, for students and faculty."

Liz has been a nurse in mostly rural settings, which helped her experience all kinds of situations. She is truly a jack of all trades, from pediatrics, obstetrics, medical-surgical, emergency room to whatever came through the door. She used every bit of this life experience to enhance learning for her students. She has been published in several nursing journals as well. She wrote articles for "Bariatric Nursing and Surgical Patient Care." She has contributed to text books by writing national licensure questions. Liz has enjoyed giving presentations to the community as well.

Chris Norden

Liz Scarano

Jill Thomas-Jorgenson

Mary Lou Robinson

Jill Thomas-Jorgenson

Both Lewis-Clark State and the Lewiston-Clarkston Valley are grateful for the time and effort Jill Thomas-Jorgenson has put into the business community, both in her 23 years at LC State and in her previous positions of helping businesses thrive.

Jill is a 1979 graduate of the college and served as executive director of Banana Belt Senior Citizens before becoming heavily involved with aiding the local economy. She was the economic development director for the Port of Lewiston and then became the director of the Port City Action Corp., which helped downtown businesses in Lewiston.

She began her work association with the college as the Dogwood Festival coordinator in the 1990s and taught some classes for the Region II Idaho Small Business Development Center before she took over as the center's director. In 2002, Jill began teaching for the Business Division in conjunction with her director duties at the center. As an adjunct faculty member, she taught over 35 courses for nine years and then joined the Business Division as a full-time assistant professor in the fall of 2011. During her time as the Region II SBDC director, she put on several workshops and classes for people interested in starting a business or to help them with their current small business. In 2009, she received the Women's Leadership Award at the annual Women's Leadership Conference of the Inland Northwest.

Jill provided extensive service to the college, including coordinating the Entrepreneurial Challenge and Senior Capstone course, and she has served on numerous committees. Jill's students and colleagues love her. She taught a variety of classes, including leadership, and her students praised her regularly for her positivity and upbeat attitude. Jill was honored with the LC State Alumni Association's Excellence in Education Award in 2019.

Mary Lou Robinson

Mary Lou Robinson has been an integral part of the Nursing & Health Sciences Division since arriving on campus from California in 1994. She served as chair of the division from 2013-17. In addition to writing and receiving grants, she taught medical and surgical courses as well as Kaplan NCLEX review courses. She also served as the assessment director for several years as well as assistant to the division chair. She was known for bringing back best practices she learned on accreditation visits and integrating them to improve the BSN program at the college.

Mary Lou earned her bachelor's in nursing at Brigham Young University and her master's at Idaho State University. She then received her philosophy in education doctorate at the University of Idaho.

Mary Lou served on several committees at the college and was the chair for the Faculty Association during the 1999-2000 academic year. She was honored with the President's Award for Outstanding Teaching in 1995 and again in 1998 and was the 2007 winner of the college's Foundation Award. She also served as honorary coach for the Warrior volleyball team.

Her dedication and heart for students has always been visible. This past year she did research to learn more on Native populations to prepare her to fulfill a nearly life-long dream of working with indigenous people.

Along with her husband, Clay, who is a professor in LC State's Physical, Life, Movement & Sports Sciences Division, the couple has published several research articles on bone health assessment. In 2019, an anonymous donor set up a scholarship endowment at the college to honor the Robinsons for the impact they make on students as well as the Lewiston-Clarkston community.

College-Sanctioned Honor Societies and Organizations

LC State recognizes graduates who have achieved membership with sanctioned honor societies and organizations by allowing ornamentation to be worn at commencement. Kappa Delta Pi Honor Society members have green and purple cords for teacher candidates who have earned 3.5 or higher; Social work graduates may earn membership with Phi Alpha Honor Society for a 3.25 or higher and have a silver medallion; Psi Chi Honor Society distinguishes declared psychology majors with a 3.3 or who are in the top 35 percent of their class or have a 3.0 for psychology courses with a silver medallion; and Ambassador Honor Society recognizes a 3.0 or higher and service contributions with a gold tassel.

LC State Ambassador Honor Society Members

The LC State Ambassador Honor Society is an honorary student organization designed to provide recognition for academic excellence and achievements, and to provide opportunities to render meaningful service to the college and the community.

Current Ambassador Members assist with ushering, seating, and handing out programs during live LC State commencement ceremonies. Ambassador graduates are awarded and usually can be identified by the gold tassels they wear on their mortarboards at commencement ceremonies.

Lewiston and Coeur d’Alene Ambassador Graduate Members

Chloe Lynn Birkmaier	Julia M Frey	Carissa Jo Myers
William Frederic Bruchard	Antonia Gutierrez Benitez	Bryson Dean Neddo
Brycen Cloward	Jessica Dawn Haldorson	Morganne Rachelle Nutt
Michelle Neva Cooper	Carson Andrew Humphrey	Emma Brielle Schneider
Emily Ann Cowdrey	Timothy John Libby	Heidi Lynn Sellmann, Vice President
Jessica Anne Earle	Tomas Enrique Lopez Quisoboni	President
Sarrah Ann Eberley	Dylan Dyce Miller, President	McKenna Nicole Stover
Lindsey Beth Erskine	Elisabeth Mae Murillo

Latin Honors

Graduates earning their first baccalaureate degree are awarded cum laude, magna cum laude or summa cum laude designation for attaining a cumulative grade point average of 3.7, 3.8, or 3.9, respectively. Graduates will wear the following colored honor cords: cum laude-silver; magna cum laude-gold; summa cum laude-silver and gold. Latin honors are indicated in the program by *(cum laude), *(magna cum laude) and *(summa cum laude) following the graduate’s name.

President’s Honors

Graduates earning an associate degree who have earned a cumulative grade point average of 3.75 or higher are recognized as having earned President’s Honors. Recipients wear royal blue and white cords. President’s Honors are indicated in the program by a “PH” following the graduate’s name.

Honors Information

Walking honors are for students who complete requirements in May or August and participate in spring commencement. These honors are calculated using all credits earned (both LC State credits as well as all transfer credits) by the end of the fall term prior to spring commencement.

Military and Veteran Honor Cords

LC State honors those who serve or have honorably served in the U.S. Armed Forces. These graduates will wear red, white, and blue Military and Veteran Honor Cords.

Presidential honors (PH) for associate degree graduates are based on a minimum of 16 graded LC State credits with a minimum cumulative LC State GPA of 3.75.

The appearance of a name in the program is presumptive evidence of graduation and honors; it must not, in any sense, be regarded as conclusive. The academic transcript, signed and sealed by the college Registrar, remains the official testimony of the possession of the degree/certificate.

OFFICIAL SEAL AND MACE OF LC STATE

The seal symbolizes the mission and noble ideals of LC State. The college was founded in 1893 as Lewiston State Normal School, with the date depicted at the bottom of the seal.

The scalloped border encompassing the seal reflects the college's location at the confluence of the Snake and Clearwater Rivers – the path taken by Meriwether Lewis and William Clark. Within the scalloped border is a circle that represents fidelity and faith, and reflects LC State's continual and unbreakable commitment to the community it serves.

The oak leaves and acorns emblazoned on the seal's outer ring are symbols of authority and service dating back to Roman times. Their inclusion underscores LC State's enduring service to both the state of Idaho and the nation. The shield (escutcheon) at the center symbolizes the strength and the historic tradition of the college as a crossroads for America. The shield itself is divided into two fields symbolizing unity of the college's educational and service missions.

The dark (sable) color represents constancy, the white (argent) field symbolizes peace, and the emblems on the field shield depict LC State's proud tradition of excellence in letters, arts and sciences (the open book), and in industry and technology (the enmeshed gears). Above the shield is a lamp that symbolizes light, life and spirituality. The lamp also reflects the college's commitment to developing the whole person and its century-plus tradition of illuminating the lives of Idaho citizens.

The college's mace is the traditional symbol of legal and chartered authority of the people to whom the Board of Trustees has delegated authority. When the mace is present, the authority of the college is present. When the mace leaves, the authority leaves as well. For this reason, the mace enters the ceremony before the governing body.

LC State is very appreciative to artist Jim Christiansen, who crafted the mace of black walnut from a tree that existed on campus. Jim has designed the mace headpiece with carvings of the college seal and logo.

Standardized academic costumes were adopted for commencement ceremonies during the late 1800s to distinguish graduates according to discipline and degree. The custom grew so rapidly that a commission was formed to study and make recommendations for a uniform code for academic regalia. In 1896, a standard code was adopted that is still followed today. The costumes, colors, trimmings, and patterns are all traditional and reflect both the degree and field of learning.

The bachelor's gown is made of black material with long, pointed sleeves. The master's gown has either long, closed sleeves or long sleeves with the more traditional sleeve openings. The doctoral gown is usually black, faced with velvet and with three velvet bars on full, round, open sleeves. The velvet trim may be black or match the hood edging, which varies by departments of learning. Some collegiate institutions have authorized doctoral gowns in school colors, rather than black.

The colorful hood is reserved for those individuals who have attained academic degrees beyond the bachelor's degree. The Intercollegiate Commission assigned and standardized colors to academic disciplines to distinguish them from their colleagues in other fields of learning and to indicate the college or university from which the wearer earned the degree. The size of the hood also indicates degree earned with the doctoral hood being the longest.

The square cap is commonly called a mortarboard and is black. Some doctors wear a soft tam or large beret. Tassels that fasten to the cap are black. Doctors, the institution's governing officials and honored guests wear gold tassels. Gold tassels also are worn by graduates who are members of the LC State Ambassadors Honor Society.

LC State bachelor candidates wear white satin stoles embroidered with the college seal. Colored cords are worn for scholastic distinction. Baccalaureate graduates earning Latin honors wear the following colored honor cords: cum laude-silver; magna cum laude-gold; summa cum laude-silver and gold. Associate degree graduates earning President's Honors wear royal blue and white cords.
