

LC State President's Council Summary of November 27, 2023 Meeting

Updates/Reminders from President Pemberton

- Winter Revels on Dec. 8
- RRF process - New for this year's RRF/UAR process will be the opportunity to present a proposal (in the style of "Shark Tank") for one-time funds, focusing on recruitment and retention. Presentations will be made to Executive Cabinet.
- Campus physical plant projects briefly overviewed.
- Times of operations and modalities – evenings and weekends emphasized re: the needs of non-traditional, adult learners who work.

The Great Upheaval, Council's shared read for the semester

- The final two groups presented on Parts Three and Four —"Looking Sideways" and "Looking at the Panorama"—tying observations from the LC State dissertation case study (by Maria Hammett), the Fall 2022 Student Survey, the Spring 2023 Employee Survey, and current issues facing higher education generally and LC State specifically.

Durable Skills and General Education – presentation by Dean Martin Gibbs, who is a member of the State General Education committee

https://lcscedu.sharepoint.com/:p:/s/PresidentsCouncil/Efu2y91bHR1Fg9Gqf6zla5sBxkg1Pl-fE\_ZjEZKLpXzmrw?e=Ijb1sl

This was the final meeting for Fall semester. Council members enjoyed sweet candy treats and pretzels and got to choose holiday socks to keep, give or donate. They were also encouraged to share The Great Upheaval with a colleague.